CONFERENCE GREAT BRITAIN AND PORTUGAL To Be Held Menday and Tuceday, with the Cooperation of Six Local Church-

London, Dec. 9, 5.55 p. m.—An arbitration treaty between rGeat Britain and Portugal has been signed in London. The treaty, which is for a period of five years, is of special significance at the present moment as is emphasized in the preamble in the following words:

"Being desirous of confirming by a further solemn agreement the friendenough to be representative, but not too large to work; and each has put too large to work; and each as put its work through to success.

The program begins Sunday morning, when visiting speakers and local pastors will occupy the pulpits, each one speaking on the missionary problem from one angle or another. To this conference are to be invited all members of the official boards of each church, including officers and committees that have to do with church finance, missionary committees and heades of missionary organiza-

At 2.30 the afternoon meeting will be opened with prayer, led by Mr. Sheidon. Addresses will be made by Mrs. Walter P. Buck, Mr. Merrill and Dr. P. H. J. Leirigo, including some practical demonstrations of the Every-Member Canvass. It has been aunounced that women especially will be welcome at this meeting. In fact women and men are admitted on equal terms to every meeting of the conference except the supper. The men's supper will be served in the rooms of the Congregational church at 6.55. Among the speakers will be Dr. Herring and Dr. Lerrigo.

Advantages are in the moral effect of co-operation by so many churches. The Congregational, Baptist, Methodist Episcopal, Advent and Zion churches join in this effort, as they do for Thanksgiving and baccalaureate services, for Sunday school teacher training, and with the T. A. B. society, the W. C. T. U. and the Salvation Army, in the Temperance Educational campaign. Many Christian people who deplore the present disminion, regard such joint activity as the best means of promoting ultimate reunion; and as more timely now than theological discussion. The figures being collected by the committee on statistics and literature will furnish an interesting comparison of the contributions of each for its own support, and for benevolences, in proportion to the number of members.
